PISTOL WOUND FATAL TO YOUTH

Dean Lasar Was Fixing Furnace, When Revolver Dropped From His Holster-Bullet Penetrated Abdomen.

Dean Lasar, 20 years old, living with his parents at No. 5589 Bartmer avenue, died at the Baptist Sanitarium, Taylor avenue and Suburban tracks, yesterday afternoon, at 12:40 o'clock, from a pistol-shot wound. Lasar was the victim of one of the most peculiar accidents resulting from the discharge of a revolver brought to the notice of the police in some time.

According to relatives, the young man went into the basement of the house Sun-day night to adjust the furnace. About his body was a leather holster, in which he carried a loaded 38-caliber army revolver. As he stooped over to examine the register the revolver dropped to the floor of the basement, causing it to discharge.

The pistol struck on the butt end. The bullet penetrated the youth's body, enter-ing just above the abdomen and issuing from his back without touching the back-bone pursued its course toward the celiing and penetrated a three-inch pipe. It ing and penetrated a three-linch pipe. It finally lodged in the timber above.

Lasar dropped to the floor with a cry for help. Relatives hurried to the basement and found the young man writhing in agony. The builet had torn a great hole in his body. Doctors James S. Holland of Olive street; Ross Hopkins of Academy street; M. E. Breen of Hamilton avenue and Mrs. Doctor hopkins were summoned and held a consutation.

Lasar's case was hopeless from the out-of Hamilton avenue and Mrs. Doctor Hopkins were summoned and held a consultation.

Layar's case was hopeless from the outset. It was decided to remove the young man to the hospital, where the accomodations were better for prolonging his life. Laparotomy was performed, but the patient grew continually worse.

The victim of the accident was known for his great fondness for rifles and revolvers. He was frequently known to have changed his patterns of guns.

He was the son of A. A. Lasar, formerly general manager of the State Republican Publishing Company, at No. 118 North Third street, and now connected with the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Company. Mr. Lasar was in Baltimore, O., at the time of his son's death.

Last Friday afternoon Edward Lasar of the Lasar-lettig Manufacturing Company, at Sixteenth and O'Fallon streets, a brother of A. A. Lasar, buried his son. Robert. Both boys died in the same hospital. Robert Lasar was 19 years old, and his death was the result of an operation for a stomach disorder.

ARGUE CHICAGO TUNNEL CASE

Illinois Supreme Court Takes Matter Under Advisement.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 24.—The suit of the Chicago Street Railway Company against the people on relation of the city of Chi-cago, which involves the lowering of the Van Buren street tunnel under the Chicago River, was argued in the Supreme Court to-day, and was taken under advisement. John P. Wilson appeared for he appellant and Granville W. Browning for the city.

The street railway company urged that in view of the existence of the La Salle and Washington street tunnels, the Van Buren street tunnel was not an obstruction; that the traction company owned the soil on which it rested, and that it could not be removed.

Browning took the position that the existence of the other tunnel had no bearing on the question as to whether this tunnel was an obstruction to navigation. So far as the ownership of the soil was concerned, he said, this ownership was subject to public casement, and the city was clearly within its rights in ordering the removal.

Other proceedings in the Supreme Court were as follows:

Clark vs. City of Chicago; motion by appellee for leave to file briefs and arguments instanter allowed.

Blackmore vs. People ex rel. Talbot; motion by appellee to dismiss on short record and for 19 per cent damages; appeal disminsed without damages.

White Star Mining Company vs. Huitbert; motion by certain appellees to strike brief of other appellees from files; reserved to final hearing.
